Folk Festival on Next Friday

The Old World will be brought to the New World at the Folk Festival to be presented at George Washington hall Friday, May 21, by the International Institute of Greater Lawrence. Fast moving glimpses of festival time around the world will be interpreted by song and dance by various nationalities.

The Folk Festival will be honored by the presence of Leifur Magnusson, who is coming from Washington, D. C., for the occasion and will be the guest of honor of the evening. Mr. Magnusson is president of the National Organization of the International Institute of Lawrence, known as the National Institute of Immigrant Welfare which has its headquarters in New York City.

The Swedish Folk Dance club of Boston, well known throughout New England, will dance the real Swedish Folk dances as they are danced in the villages of their homeland. It is difficult to believe this group is non-professional as their dancing is so finished, but it is their sincere love of their art evidenced in their dancing that always endears them to their audience.

The Italian Episode will be a garden scene in Springtime. A highlight of this episode will be the dancing of the Tarantella as it has been danced in the villages of Italy for centuries.

Other dances will be the Polish "Kra-kowiak," which originated and was named in honor of the beautiful city of Krakow, and is danced at Polish weddings. The Ukrainians of Lawrence will dance the "Hayevka," an Easter dance, also known as the "Sun Dance." Other Ukrainian numbers will be the Sword and Shepherd dances. The Greek dance and songs will interpret a picnic in Greece at rose time.

Friendly Frolics on Next Friday

The Girls' Friendly Society of Christ Church will sponsor a musical program, "Friendly Frolics on the S. S. Showboat" next Friday evening, May 21, at 8:00 o'clock in the Parish House. There will be several specialties by well known Andover talent.

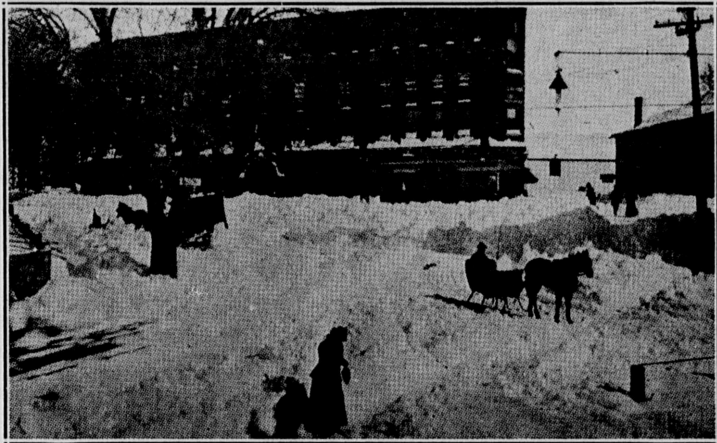

The sale of candy, food, aprons and fancy work will be held in the afternoon and evening and tea will be served in the afternoon.

The committee in charge of the entertainment are: Miss Minnie Valentine, chairman; Misses Elizabeth Hilton, Thelma Beck, Margaret Laurie and Mrs. Walter Howe.

POSTER EXHIBIT

There will be a public exhibit of the posters drawn by local students in the Geupire poster contest at the Addison gallery all next week, starting on Monday and continuing through Sunday, the 23d. The exhibit is the result of many requests from the public.

The Square after the Blizzard of 1898

Coronation Ball at Town Hall

The Andover British War Veterans will contribute their part to the colorful pageantry that has marked England's life this week when the local organization holds a coronation ball in the town hall this evening. Promptly at nine the colors will be presented to Consul Horace A. Ford and vice consul F. B. A. Rundall as representatives of the king. In this ceremony the veterans and the Clan MacPherson pipe band will participate.

Other invited guests will include the selectmen and representatives from the local patriotic organizations as well as those of Boston, Lynn and Lawrence. There are also expected guests from Wilton, N. H., Portsmouth, N. H., Westery, R. I., Holyoke and Beverly.

There will be an exhibition by the champion drill team of the Ladies' auxiliary of the clan. During the evening a grand march will be held.

The committee: George Mitchell, chairman; Commander James Batty, Henry Batty, John Wynton, Norman K. MacLeish, Silas Walton, John Nicol and James Kew.

Shakeup in Poms Pond Committee

The new Poms' pond committee was announced this week, with a drastic change in the membership and in the size of the board. Of last year's group, only William C. Crowley remains. Two new members were appointed: George G. Brown of the Board of Health and Robert V. Deyrmond. Last year's board had five members of which one, Herbert Wright, died during the year. In former years the board had been expanded to seven.

Fashion Show, Tea Next Wednesday

A fashion show and tea will be held by the Junior King's Daughters at the South church vestry on next Wednesday from three to five. Modelling fashions from Cherry and Webb's will be ten girls and five women. They will show clothes suitable for beach and garden wear and sports of all kinds, as well as dresses, hats and coats for wear during Commencement week and the summer months. Styles will range from informal to the very formal.

After the models have shown their costumes there will be a short musical entertainment, after which tea, coffee, sandwiches and cakes will be served.

The committee chairmen: models, Barbara Sellars; tickets, Helen Foster; publicity, Helen Beer; refreshments, Elizabeth Doudy; entertainment, Marian Scherner. Dorothy Babb will describe the apparel.

Local models will include: Ruth Hardy, Lorraine Kinsman, Barbara Flanagan, Phyllis Burridge, Virginia Batchelder, Barbara Rice and Barbara Gahn.

Andover P.T.A. to Visit Schools

The first part of the Andover P.T.A. meeting on Wednesday evening will consist of visiting the school rooms of the Junior High, Jackson, Stowe and Dove Schools from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock. The parents attendance for the banner will be taken at this time.

The teachers will show and discuss with the parents, their children's work during this informal visit.

The final business meeting of the year which includes the election of next year's officers, will be held in the Music room of the Junior High School at 8:30 o'clock.

Building Permits Total $195,000

Andover's building boom, started last year, has continued at an even increased rate this year, stated building inspector John Driscoll yesterday as he revealed that for the first four months of 1937 he had granted permits for $195,000 worth of new buildings. A total of about 25 new dwellings has already been authorized.

The developments of Fred E. Cheever, Cornelius A. Wood, and others who started a year ago are still progressing and little difficulty is experienced in disposing of the houses. Among the outstanding new developments is that of Edward P. Hall's off High street just below Walnut avenue. Mr. Hall is at present putting through a semi-circular road going off High street just below Walnut avenue and returning across from the entrance to Burnham road. It is understood that Mr. Hall intends to erect some homes along this new roadway, presumably for workingmen.

Phillips academy's housing plan is progressing, and there are a number of individuals homes being put up for self-occupancy by the land-owner.

Woman's Guild in Annual Meeting

The Woman's Guild of Christ Church held its annual meeting yesterday afternoon in the church parish house, with Mrs. Charles A. Hill being re-elected president.

A brief service was conducted at 12:30 by Rev. Mr. Taft, with the Book of Remembrance being presented at the altar by Mrs. Hill, Miss Edna Brown and Mrs. Pullen. After the service a catered luncheon was served to about 50.

Other elections were: first vice-president, Mrs. Alfred Perry; second vice-president, Miss Alice Jenkins; secretary, Mrs. Ralph Berry; and treasurer, Miss Brown. Annual reports were presented.

Decorations were in charge of Miss Jenkins and Mrs. Berry.

SONS OF LEGION TO MEET

Squadron No. 8 of the Sons of the American Legion will hold their regular business meeting this evening at seven o'clock at Legion headquarters. Special attention is called to the change in time. Drill will also be held. Plans for Memorial Day are to be announced. The uniforms have been ordered and if delivered in time for this meeting will be distributed to the different members.

All squadrons members planning to take part in the Memorial Day activities must be present at this meeting.

Egotistic Thievery

What's the difference between malfeasance, misfeasance and nonfeasance? Quick. What's the answer? And if you know that one, answer this: "How can you rob yourself?"

If you can't answer those questions, and a bunch of others like them, you'd never make a police sergeant, or if you did, it would be over the dead bodies of the state civil service commission. Those were two, just two, of the stumbling blocks in the way of four local police officers who aspired a few weeks ago to the newly-created sergeancy which in all probability Ray Hickey will occupy.

The exam took three hours, and it came in three sections. If you scored even half a point below seventy in any one section, you would be one of those who could not be appointed sergeant. The exams were full of little pitfalls and big pitfalls, and to successfully cope with it would require more than just a knowledge of facts and more than the average amount of common sense, and it would be safe to say that many of those who spend their too frequent spare moments criticizing the department would probably end up with pretty near a minus grade.

Ray Hickey led the list, and his appointment will be sure to be popular. We hope that his most serious problem while sergeant will be people who are robbing themselves.

Shawsheen P.T.A. to Elect Officers

The Shawsheen P. T. A. will hold its annual meeting and election of officers for the coming year at the school room on Wednesday, May 19th. It is hoped many will be present. The officers to be voted on for the coming year are President, Mrs. Harold T. Houston; first vice-president, Joseph A. Mulvey; second vice-president, Carlton E. Shulze; treasurer, James L. Dean; secretary, Mrs. Harold Eastwood; director for two years, Miss Anne Harney.

ELECT TRUSTEES

Two trustees, Mrs. Margaret Mazer and Mrs. Walter Ebersbach, were elected at the V. F. W. auxiliary meeting last Wednesday evening.

"Sergeant" (?) Hickey

William R. Hickey
Andover Art Studio

Officer William R. Hickey may soon have another more imposing title than "Officer" if the results of a physical examination which he underwent at Boston on Wednesday morning prove satisfactory to the Civil Service Commission. If Ray's physical condition is as it should be, he will soon be called "Sergeant" and will occupy the day desk.

Six officers took the examination, and Officer Hickey led the list. Another officer who apparently had a good rating was eliminated because of a technicality in his application blank.

Applications for the Civil Service examination for call fireman must be filed before next Tuesday at five, and applications for the police officer examination by a week from tomorrow at twelve.

Mothers Club to Hold Whist, Beano

The regular meeting of the Mothers' Club was held Wednesday afternoon in the high school drawing-room, with Mrs. Alex Crockett presiding. There was a Roll-Call and Mothers' day observance.

A May basket of goodies was sent to a shut-in member, Mrs. Priscilla Manning.

A public whist and beano will be held Wednesday evening, May 19th, in the old Odd Fellows hall, Musgrove building. In charge of whist will be Mrs. Fred L. Collins, Mrs. Paul Simeone, Mrs. Peter Stewart, Mrs. Henry Albers, Mrs. James Souter, Mrs. Susan Hastings, and Mrs. Crockett. Mrs. Harold Cates and Mrs.

Alex Blamire will be in charge of beano.

A bakery sale will be held May 29th. Mrs. Walter Downs will be chairman, assisted by Mrs. Albers and Mrs. Hastings.

The annual outing will be held at Salem Willows on June ninth. The annual election of officers will be held at the next meeting, June 2nd.

Refreshments Wednesday were served by Mrs. Cates, Mrs. Simeone and Mrs. Blamire.

Catholic Daughters Select Officers

Mrs. M. A. Burke was re-elected regent of Court St. Monica, C. D. A., at the annual election held Tuesday evening. The installation will be held on June 8th.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. George Manock vice-regent; Mrs. Frank Burns prophetess; Mrs. Neil Cussen, historian; Mrs. William Fleming, financial secretary; Mrs. Frank McDonald, treasurer; Mrs. Bernard Reilly, monitor; Mrs. Joseph Fallon, sentinel; Mrs. Frank Shiebler, organist; trustees for three years, Mrs. Edward Downs, Mrs. Barbara Shultz; two years, Josephine Sullivan, Mrs. George Garland; and one year, Mrs. William Young and Mrs. Margaret Robertson.

Magician Entertains at Church Vestry

About 200 were present at the South church vestry Monday evening to enjoy the entertainment presented by "The Great Ralston," magician. Mr. Thurston was assisted by Mrs. Thurston. Trained mice and rabbits were included in the performance.

Mrs. Byron Hall and Mrs. Alfred Hurlburt were in charge of candy and peanuts, and Mrs. P. Bartlett Whittemore had charge of tickets.

The program was given for the benefit of the choir.

Punchard Wins Over Methuen

Seven hits, 11 free tickets to first base, and nine Methuen errors gave Punchard a 15 to 3 win over its rival at Methuen on Wednesday afternoon. Methuen out-hit Punchard 9 to 7, but it managed to toss the game to Punchard just the same.

Methuen took an early two-run lead, but in the fifth nine runs were pushed across by the local team assisted by a few Methuen shoves. In the eighth Punchard added six more by the same process of teamwork from Methuen.

Shattuck did a good job in the box for Punchard, striking out nine, passing one and hitting one.

The win put Punchard in second place in the Valley league with two wins and one loss for a .667 average. This afternoon it is meeting the league leaders Chelmsford, which has an average of .800 made by virtue of four wins and one loss. A Punchard win today would put the local tea, in the lead with .750, Chelmsford dropping to .667.

The line-up Wednesday was: Dushame, c.f.; Walker, s.s.; Lynch, l.f.; Connors, c.; Bisset, r.f.; 1b.; Barrett, 1b.; r.f.; Shattuck, p.; Spinney, 2b.; Gibson, 3b.

BAKERY SALE TOMORROW

The Eastern Star will hold a bakery sale in the vacant store in the Musgrove building Saturday at two.

Adventurers Hold Annual Meeting

A large number of both active and associate members attended the annual meeting of The Adventurers held in the Music Room of the Junior High School on Monday evening, May 10th.

The entertainment for the evening consisted of a sketch "November Afternoon" directed by Charles Armitage, and a farce "A Leap Year Bride" directed by Mervin Stevens.

Miss Emily FitzHugh played the part of the "girl" who met the "man," played by Ernest Young, in the park one "November Afternoon." The "man" was blind, but the "girl" was entirely unaware of the fact, and so by the light mood shown in her conversation brought to him a few moments of happiness.

Miss Dorothy Winn and Edward Weeks were true comedians in "A Leap Year Bride." Sumner Davis was the disgusted business man, while the voice of the boss in the outer office was that of Frederick Hulme.

The officers for the year 1937-38 were elected with Harry Emmons as president; Charles Armitage, vice-president; Miss May Elander, secretary; and Mrs. Charles Sawyer and Miss Agnes Dugan as members of the executive board.

To Give Prizes in Essay Contest

"Andover's Greatest Need," is the subject of an essay contest which is to be held in the near future through the generosity of a prominent local resident who is offering prizes of five dollars, three dollars and two dollars for the best essays on the subject. Anyone will be eligible to participate. Rules for the contest will be announced in next week's Townsman.

The contest will open up a wide vista of ideas. Suggestions include a new town hall, a lower tax rate, garbage collection, better town officials, tighter liquor regulations, etc.

Houdini Successor to Give Program

"Magic is the one form of entertainment that you cannot get over the radio," says Bertram Adams, super-magician, and personal friend of the late Harry Houdini, who is to perform in the Meeting Room of Phillips academy this evening at 8.15. Recently Mr. Adams made such a hit and so completely packed the house at the University Club in Boston that they immediately engaged him again for next year. This is only one of the countless audiences which has been bewildered by the amazing perfection of his presentation of magic. In fact, B. L., in the Boston Transcript, once said, "The only impossibility for this gentleman, it would appear, is that he cease for a split second being a magician." The highest honor was bestowed upon Mr. Adams by his fellow magicians when he was chosen National President of the Society of American Magicians, an office held previously by the world famous Houdini and Thurston.

Citizens of Andover are cordially invited to be present. There will be a nominal admission charge of 25c.

4-H CLUB MEETS

The weekly meeting of the 4-H Stick-to-it Clothing Club was held Monday afternoon in the Sewing Room of the Junior High School. Plans were completed for the 4-H Exhibit which is to be held Monday, May 17 at 2.15 in the Junior High School Music Room. The public is invited. Mrs. G. Richard Abbott and Miss Frances Hartman were in charge of the meeting. Those present were: Misses Marilyn Lewis, Marjorie Crosby, Dorothy Payne, Dorothy Christie, Julie Barbarian, Mrs. Richard Abbott, Miss Frances Hartman, N. Y. A. Leader, and Adelaide Webb.

Tar-paper Villages Should Be Made a Proper Subject for Legislative Restrictions

One of Andover's greatest defects at present is the tendency in certain parts of the town to erect dwellings of a type that is not a credit to the community. Long familiar to local citizens is the so-called "Tar-paper village" down South Main street way, and although the Corbett street section has improved markedly in recent years, the day is not so long past that another "Tar-paper village" was located there. At present this unfortunate type of development is taking place out in the North street district.

When little Winona Nelson became lost recently for four days in another Bay State community, the fact that she lived in a tar-paper hut was broadcast far and wide in the Boston and press association newspapers. Naturally the people who read those stories will have a poor idea of the residential features of that particular town. A similar situation might arise here in Andover, and the resulting publicity about our tar-paper districts would be of serious injury to the town, for the readers would not think of our fine academy on the hill, our many fine homes in the center of the town, and the new spotless homes of Shawsheen village. Instead they would think of Andover as a place that has 'tar-paper' shacks.

Unfortunately, there is very little that can be done about this situation. It is not right to blame these poor families, because in many cases their erection of these huts is caused by a bad socio-economic condition which makes their living in ordinary homes impossible for financial reasons. But as this condition improves and fewer and fewer families remain destitute, it will be advisable to seek some means of circumventing the legal condition which makes regulation of such construction at present an impossibility.

Our local planning board is fully aware of this situation, but it is just as fully aware that it is powerless to do anything about it. The town can say, and has said, that that district is residential, but these huts legally are residences. Under the present legal set-up any man who owns land has a right to do with it what he wants as long as such use does not constitute an infringement of some other person's rights. He cannot do anything that would make too much noise, he cannot do anything that would be offensive to the smell, he cannot do anything that would injure the public health, the public morals or the public safety. Today's legislation protects the ears, the nose, and the general health of a citizen, but it does nothing to protect the eyes from such eyesores as are now going up on North street. An aroused public opinion in connection with such things should do much to change a legislative and constitutional philosophy that still calls creating wayside ugliness one of the inviolate rights of a citizen.

Siftings

The Italian papers are not mentioning the coronation of King George, but it is safe to say that the British papers will show no such reticence toward the installation of Mussolini's successor.

The Boston Globe, in commenting on the Cape's objection to having a new state prison there, suggests that the pen be put in Penikese. . . . And maybe they'd put the second offenders in Andover.

Congress refused the president's request to make the Supreme court unpermanant.

The President chose his bodyguard from the Andover barracks, and the President's son-secretary chose his secretary from Lawrence. We'll be running this country yet.

HELPING HAND ELECTS

Mrs. James Edgar was elected president of the Helping Hand society of the Free church at the annual meeting held yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Edmond Dunwoody was made vice-president, Mrs. Roy Hood secretary, and Mrs. Alex MacKenzie treasurer.

Later in the evening the society entertained the junior choir and served a chicken pattie supper.

Service Club Plans Golf Tournament

Harold R. Rafton of Alden road gave a talk on "Paper Manufacturing" at the Service club meeting last night.

Mr. Rafton gave a brief history of paper manufacture, mentioning the ingenuity exercised in the machinery involved, covering the raw material, the magnitude of the industry, the economic situation, the recent remarkable development in the south on Craft pulp, the types of paper manufactured, future prospects for the industry and the possibilities of competition.

On June 10 the annual Ladies' night will be held at the Country club, with dancing and music being scheduled.

Plans are underway for the annual golf tournament. H. Lester Utley is chairman of the tournament committee. Members are asked to register immediately.

Measles Prevalent but No Epidemic

A considerable number of cases of measles has been reported from Shawsheen village in the past few weeks, but Board of Health agent Mrs. Lotta Johnson yesterday announced that the town is still far from the epidemic stage. She stated that since January first there have only been about fifty cases of measles in Andover, which she said is not a bad percentage for a town this size. Many of the Shawsheen cases are in one family, she said, and were the cases more widely spread out among different families it might more nearly approach the epidemic stage.

Dr. Archibald of the state department of health was in town Wednesday, and he stated that Andover is well off in this respect. There is a state-wide epidemic of measles at present.

Mrs. Johnson urges all parents who notice any signs of a cold in their children to isolate them immediately and call a doctor. Watery eyes, slight sore throat are other symptoms.

Grange Enjoys Costume Party

Andover Grange met on Tuesday evening, with the attendance contest favoring the men. Nathaniel Trull of North Tewksbury gave a fine talk on Christian Endeavor and what it has done for the youth of today. Walter Johnson of Chelmsford also gave an interesting talk on the "Youth of Today."

The Tewksbury High School orchestra provided music. After the program the floor was cleared for dancing and the grand march. The costumes were clever, funny, pretty, original and staid, according to which way your glance fell. Harry A. Wright, as a gentleman of the old school and Harry C. Dawson as a fashionable lady of today led the march. The prizes were won by Miss Maude Dick, the prettiest, Mrs. Ingram of North Andover, the funniest and Alex Henderson, the most original. The judges were Mrs. Lena Buswell, Worthy Flora, Middlesex North Pomona; Arthur Covell, Overseer, North Andover Grange; Mr. and Mrs. Wilder of Pinehurst Grange; and Mrs. Mary Wrigley, Worthy Flora of Chelmsford. Music for dancing was furnished by a well-known orchestra from Lowell.

Sunday will be "Go to Church Sunday" for Andover Grange for Rev. Newman Matthews has invited the Grange to attend the services in a body on that day.

The May 25th meeting will be Patriotic Night with all Patriotic orders in town guests for that evening.

The Dramatic Club of the Grange will hold their meeting on Thursday evening, May 20, as an entertainment is to be given on Thursday evening, May 27, in Grange Hall.

Forge Village Team Wins 3-0

Forge Village's soccer team, or six-elevenths of it, plus five local players defeated the Andover F. C. Sunday afternoon 3 to 0. The team arrived here short-handed and augmented its forces by the addition of five from the would-have-been spectators. Andover's booters had little opportunity to score past the sub goal-tender of Forge Village because of the fine work of the two fullbacks.

Playing for Andover were: Lee, g.;

Barclay, l.b.; McAllister, r.b.; McCaffrey, l.h.; McLaughlin, c.h.; Simes, r.h.; Wilson, o.l.; Bisset, i.l.; Beveridge, c.; Milne, i.r.; Campbell, o.r.

Legion Auxiliary Elects Delegates

Mrs. George Cilley, Mrs. John Keith and Mrs. Joseph Levi were elected delegates from the local Legion auxiliary to the department convention to be held at the New Ocean House, Swampscott on June 17, 18, 19, at a special auxiliary meeting held Wednesday evening. Alternates are Mrs. William Buchan, Miss Ethel Hilton and Mrs. Harry Wrigley.

The delegates are expected to attend the county meeting to be held tomorrow at Nahant.

There will be an exhibit of Old World treasures in the Foyer of the hall which will give beauty and color to the scene.

Hoping to Erect Statue of Revere

Local members of the Daughters of the American Revolution are interested in a movement to erect a permanent statue of Paul Revere. On April 24 a statue, in plaster, was unveiled at the Charles River esplanade, at the foot of Revere street, and since in its present plaster form the erection can only be temporary, a movement is underway to have it made in bronze. The plaster statue is by Cyrus Dallin, noted sculptor. If made in bronze it would be the Bay State's first statue of the Revolutionary War hero.

Church Bazaar Group Meets

A meeting of the general committee heads for Christ church bazaar which is to be in December, was held on Tuesday evening in the guild room of the Parish house. Mrs. Walter Howe, the chairman, requested all to have their contribution lists in by Monday next, May 17. There are eighteen solicitors and those who have pledged contributions will be reminded each month from now till December just when their gifts will come due.

The groups, which include the different guilds and clubs of the church, may use various methods of raising money, but it is requested that no games of chance be used. Each chairman is to appoint his or her committee. Ernest Young has been named treasurer of the bazaar and all money is to go to him, so that there will be a central fund for income and outgo.

The bazaar will be held in the town hall on December 9 and 10, afternoon and evening. Supper will be served each evening and tea during one of the afternoons. All kinds of articles for Christmas gifts will be on sale and a specialty will be made of dolls of all sizes and kinds. An entertainment is planned for each evening and various attractions will be on hand for the pleasure of all.

V. F. W. Poppy Day May 29

The local Post of V.F.W. will conduct on May 29th its annual Poppy Day for the sale of Buddy Poppies made by ex-service men who are now in the various hospitals throughout our land. These flowers are absolutely American-made and they are copyrighted. The proceeds are entirely used for relief of the distressed and needy. The late war is over for many who took an active part in it, but there are those who still need a lift. Offerings will help to make life a bit sweeter and surer. For them, Andover Post, V.F.W. kindly asks the public's cooperation in this worthy cause.

The committee members are comrades Cole, Cates, Dodge, Muller, Quinn, O'Neil, J. Hart, Erving, Ripley, Taylor, Hibbard, Beauchesne, Stuart, and Deyermund.

Abbot Academy Notes

Miss Hearsey was the principal speaker at the regional meeting of the Cum Laude society held at Tilton academy on Wednesday of this week.

The Rev. Albert W. Palmer, D.D., of the Chicago Theological seminary will be the speaker at the vesper service in Abbot hall on Sunday evening. The public is invited to hear Dr. Palmer.

NOTICE

The annual meeting of the Corporation of the Andover Guild will be held at the Guild house Tuesday evening, May 18, at eight o'clock.

All contributors to the Andover Guild are members of the corporation and are invited to be present at the meeting.

A daughter, Barbara Marion, to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Smith of Rattlesnake Hill road, May 7.

At the Rockingham hospital, Bellows Falls, Vt., on May 5, a son, David Keith, to Wendell Niles and Eleanor Keith Sweet of Athens, Vt. This is their second son.

Obituaries

Georgianna E. Martin

Miss Georgianna Eliza Martin, 90, passed away on Tuesday at her residence on Carmel road. There are no immediate survivors.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning by Rev. Frederick B. Noss and burial was in Spring Grove cemetery.

Briggs-Allen Notes

Monday, May 3, was Mother's Day at the Briggs Allen School for the Transition Group under the leadership of Miss Howe. That group is composed of children four and five years of age who have been doing work of a special type for mental development and muscle control. Each child took part individually as well as collectively in an interesting program of songs, stories, finger plays and games which was much enjoyed by the spectators.

A visit from an English girl, who was a guest of Miss Emily Fitz Hugh a week, was much enjoyed. She expressed great delight in the children's ability to sing—she liked especially John Peel and other English Songs sung for her benefit.

A Trustee of the school visited one morning. He not only watched the fun at recess but took several pictures of the children at play. He also joined in the celebration of the birthday of one of the teachers.

The tea for the Abbot Faculty and the Seniors was held this afternoon. Miss Joyce Curran was hostess with the Briggs Allen Faculty. Mrs. M. J. Curran, Jr. served, assisted by Mrs. B. E. Cole 2nd, Mrs. A. B. Darling, Mrs. George Gage, Mrs. John Hartigan, Mrs. Scott Paradise and Mrs. Wallace Brimer.

Nature Walks at School have started and great interest is shown in learning the names of our common wild flowers.

EUREKA CLUB MEETS

Mrs. Wilson Knipe of Stratford Road was hostess to the Eureka Club of Grace Church, Lawrence, on Monday evening when she entertained about twenty-five members in her attractive new home.

There was a short business meeting. Delicious sandwiches and coffee and tea were served by Mrs. Knipe and her committee.

Those present from Shawsheen Village were, Mrs. Percy Nutton, Mrs. Russell Barlow, and Mrs. H. P. Kitchin.

A public whist party to raise money for necessities for the Christ church bazaar will be held in the parish house on June 2. Refreshments will be served and candy will be on sale. The public is asked to reserve this date and aid a worthy cause, besides having a pleasant evening.

What is the "Low-price Field"?

YOU hear a lot about "the low-price field" these days. A good many cars claim to be in it.

So whenever the low-price field is mentioned, remember:

Until Ford came, no average American could own a car.

Today all Ford prices are still low — with the prices of the 60-horsepower Ford V-8 $30 to $60 lower than those of any other car of comparable size.

But with Ford, "low price" doesn't merely mean low figures on the price tag. It means much more than that. It means low prices and low costs all the car's long life. Low prices for service — for parts — and, above all, for operation.

Both Ford V-8 engine sizes are economical to operate. The 85 horsepower gives greater gasoline mileage this year than ever, and the "60" delivers the highest mileage in Ford history.

Private owners, cab companies, fleet operators all report that the "60" averages from 22 to 27 miles per gallon of gasoline.

Check and see how much Ford saves you.

Ford Founded the Low-price Field
Ford Keeps That Field Low-priced Today

Ford V-8 Prices Begin at $529

Ballardvale Man Overcome by Gas

Rendered unconscious Saturday noon by gas escaping from two jets of a gas stove, John W. Sharp of Andover street, Ballardvale, has been in serious condition at a hospital this week. He was revived by use of a pulmotor by Lieutenant Albert Cole of the fire department, who responded to the call in the new ambulance.

Mr. Sharp was found unconscious on the floor by his son, Lincoln Sharp, who detected the odor of gas coming through a register to the upper floor. He immediately summoned the ambulance. Also responding were Chief of Police George A. Dane, Officer David Gillespie and Dr. J. J. Daly.

Death was probably staved off by a partly open window in the kitchen.

Mother's Day greetings and letters have been received by Mrs. Mary C. Edmands from her older son, Ensign Allan C. Edmands, who is on the West Virginia of the United States Fleet in Hawaii. The Fleet has been having war game manoeuvres and is located just now in Maui, the letter and card coming from Lahaina on this island. The ensign is having a wonderful time "eating pineapples and sugar cane and lying on the coral beaches," this of course when he is off duty.

Malcolm B. McTernan, Jr., Harvard center fielder, won the Brown game for Harvard Tuesday when he drove the winning run in to break up a tie game with a single in the ninth inning. He also drove in two runs in the fourth with a double and scored the tying run in the eighth after singling. He scored two runs himself besides driving in three. He also made two hits, a single and triple, in the St. John's game last Saturday, featuring the game with a shoe-string somersault catch.

Garden Club Notes

Fined, Claims She

Was Not Driving

Insisting that she was not the driver of the car which crashed into the rear of a parked truck in front of the Andover Garage a few weeks ago, Mrs. Anne Hanson of Brockton was fined $25 in district court yesterday morning for operating to endanger. Wells P. Davis of Brockton, who was with her in the car, stated that he was the driver, but the truck operator testified that when he went back to the car, Mr. Davis was at the right with a broken arm and Mrs. Hanson was behind the wheel. Inspector French, Sergeant Saunders and Officer Stevens also testified.

"SPRINTING AHEAD"

We are entering the final lap of the race. The goal lies ahead, but we must bring in to play our reserve energy. So far this year the pupils generally have shown that they have had the ability to get a high scholastic standing, and at least they have shown that they could work. Now "spring is in the air" and it is their tendency to rely on the work that they have done to get them by. But this can not be done; they must do their work as well if not better than they have been doing. We must try to maintain the average that we have and not let it lower and in the meantime strive to raise it. We must sprint ahead if we are to be among the "winners" and graduate with honors. Some of the pupils think that because they have done fairly good work so far that this will get them by. This usually works out in reverse, however, and the pupils who let their work dwindle are those that are left behind while the rest go on another grade or to another school. You see our marks must be kept above the passing level at all times, so if they drop now it will take more than "sprinting" to get you by.

Spring is not the time to get lazy and not do your work; rather we should go at it with renewed zest and more energetically. We should strive to bring our averages which have been low, up, and strive at the same time to graduate with honors. Some of the ninth graders in later life will want positions. They will perhaps need teachers' references and their prospective employers will want to see the standings that they maintained while in high school. This will also include their marks from the ninth grade as that is generally rated as their first year in high. If they did not do good work and live up to expectations, these teachers cannot give favorable recommendations. The marks will speak for themselves. We have to work now for those things that we desire in later life, so if we have these ambitions now we must work to enable them to come true. Our job, then, is to Prepare Now For The Future.

Spring, perhaps, is one of the loveliest seasons of the year, and we do not intend that you should not enjoy it. However, there are always the typical descriptions of the school-boy looking out of the window at the trees in bloom, the sun shining, and the robins singing, appearing under which is the caption, "When A Feller Needs A Friend," etc. But these typify scenes which may have been common in the gay nineties. Pupils, schools, and such scenes have changed a little since then. Also the requirements for getting along in the world have changed since then. Our modern world demands an education and little can be accomplished without one. We have excellent opportunities for education at our disposal, but we must make the best of them or it will be of no use. So when we've gone so far in the race, let's go a little farther and do a little better. Let's "Keep Sprinting!"

4-H EXHIBITION

The 4-H Harmony Maker's Club will hold an exhibition on Monday, May 17, at 2:15 in the sewing room of the junior high. There will be on display work which has been completed during the year. At the same time the members of the 4-H Stick-To-It Club will exhibit their work in the sewing room. The exhibition is open to the public, and parents and friends are invited. Also the Clicking Needles Club members will show articles that they have knitted during the school year.—MARION FOYE

NOTES

The Student Government will sponsor a general dance to be held in the gymnasium on Friday, May 21. The committee in charge consists of Barbara Gahm, Dorothy Christie, Katherine Bixby, Janet Carter, Elinor Houston, Ben Forbes, and Augustine Rapisardi.

—JANET CARTER

The Costume and Scenery Club have planned to have a picnic some day next week.

Groups 9-1 and 9-3 are making class social science scrap books. Later in the year these will be judged to see which has the best book.

Isabel Dobbie was recently chosen as the girl in Room 13 who has shown the best school spirit, participated in many school activities, shown good leadership and sportsmanship, and cooperated to a high degree in the various activities. She was awarded a silver chain on which was a miniature basketball. She was recently chosen Vice-President to replace John Humphreys who had formerly served in that position.

On the bulletin board in the corridor on the way to the gym there are some very interesting displays such as pictures of track, high jumping, etc. There are also golf instructions there showing the proper way to hold your club and the way to hit. So if you wish to become a real golfer, study the materials on this bulletin board. The bulletin board display is changed from time to time so that the boys may receive aid in the various sports.

—JOHN SWEENEY, VASCO NUNEZ, JR.

ELECT NEW PRESIDENT

Recently John Humphreys was elected President of Room 13 to replace Ben Forbes who resigned.

CLUB GAMES

The junior high has had no varsity sports during the year. Lately there has been quite a bit of talk about varsity baseball and track. As this cannot be done, Mr. Sherman has been granted the privilege of having club teams that could go out and play other club teams as those of Brooks and Phillips.—JOHN ERVING

Andover Boys in Pageant at Lowell

"Sealed Orders", a pageant written by Mrs. Nathan Pulsifer is to be given at the Massachusetts State Conference of Congregational churches May 18 under the sponsorship of the woman's department of the Andover District at the parish house of St. Anne's church, Lowell.

This pageant has several episodes depicting the development and growth of missionary zeal in foreign and home fields, particularly in relation to its development in the State of Massachusetts. The different scenes of the episodes are to be given by the several churches in this district. Andover has charge of Episode 2, Scene 1, which finds its locale at Williamstown, Mass., at a Haystack Prayer Meeting. It is entitled "We Are Born Again," and it tells of a group of Williamstown students who were inspired with a vision of world conquest for Christ.

Miss Madeleine Hewes is on the pageant committee. Mrs. J. Albion Burt is directing the local group which consists of Samuel J. Mills, Preston Wade, James Richards, Everett Gorrie, Francis Robbins, James Keith, Harvey Loomis, John Thomas, Byron Greene, Charles Lovely.

The pageant will start at 4:30.

On the first day of the conference, Monday, Rev. A. Graham Baldwin will give an address at 3:45. Morning sessions start at 10, there will be luncheon at 12:30 and another service at 2. Supper conferences will start at 6, and evening worship at 7:45. On Tuesday the morning session will start at 9 and the evening service at 8, the other hours being the same.

Historical Society Concert Back in the Twenties

Above is a picture of an old-fashioned concert given some years ago at the town hall by the Andover Historical society. There are a number of very familiar faces included in it. How many of them can you identify?

Punchard Alumni Elect Officers

Sumner F. Davis '24, was chosen president of the Punchard Alumni association Friday evening at the annual meeting held in the new Memorial auditorium. An entertainment preceded the business meeting, which was followed in turn by a dance and reception to the senior class, 100 in number this year for the first time in the school's history.

Principal Nathan C. Hamblin made a few brief remarks during the course of the evening, praising the alumni association for its splendid inspirational work for the school.

Other officers elected were: First vice-president, Charles Armitage '32; second vice-president, Miss Eunice Stack '17; third vice-president, George J. Adams '26; secretary, Miss Mary Winkley '32; statistical secretary, Miss C. Madeleine Hewes '96; assistant statistical secretary, Mrs. George G. Brown '18; treasurer, Richard Douglas '26; members of the executive committee: Miss May Elander '27, Atty. Alan T. Polgreen '25, Miss Dorothy Winn '30, Lyman Cheever '17, Miss Ruth Ellison '18, Harold A. Johnson '21 and Clifford W. Wadman '29.

The report of the nominating committee was given by Joseph B. Doherty '27 in the absence of Chairman Geoffrey B. Nicoll. Other members of the committee were: Alfred Souter '26 and Miss Annetta Anderson '27.

The treasurer's report was read by Richard Douglas, showing a balance on hand of $167.87. Sumner F. Davis read the secretary's report in the absence of Miss Mary Winkley. The report of the trustees of the Punchard Alumni Trust funds was read by Charles Armitage in the absence of the trustees, Myron E. Gutterson, Selectman J. Everett Collins and Edmond E. Hammond. The report showed the following balances: Punchard Alumni fund, $3618.41; Mary Alice Abbot fund, $773.17; Mary E. H. Dern fund, $337.69; George D. Millett Memorial fund, $53.44; grand total, $4782.71.

Harold A. Johnson, president during the past year, presided at the meeting. Outstanding among the reunion classes was the 35-year class with three members present: Dana W. Clark, Wendell Wright and Chester Abbott.

Mr. Davis was master of ceremonies for the entertainment, the program for which follows: Recitations, "Brothers Bereft" and "Father Plants a Garden," by Janice Harvey of Lawrence; junior and senior high school boys' gymnasium exhibition; song, "May Morning," "Wind's in the South Today," and "I Want to Be in a Garden," by Dorothy Cornwell of Salem, N. H., with Miss Marion L. Abbott at the piano.

In the receiving line at the dance and reception were: Principal and Mrs. Hamblin, President and Mrs. Johnson, Superintendent and Mrs. Henry C. Sanborn, Mrs. Emma G. Carter and Miss Lilian Fox. The gymnasium was attractively decorated with Japanese lanterns and balloons. A prize waltz was won by Robert MacLaren and Betty Bodwell.

Statement Issued by Tree Warden

The following statement has been issued by Tree Warden G. Richard Abbott:

"Andover, like so many of our old New England towns, has a great deal of natural beauty which we would like to improve and preserve. The Tree Warden is planning a roadside beautification project for the future, which he hopes will have the support and approval of the citizens of the town. No definite plans have been made and he would like to have suggestions from anyone interested in roadside development. In general, the plan is to use trees and shrubs native to this section, growing in their best soil conditions, which do not require too much annual care, and also the opening of vistas or views to passing traffic where this is possible.

"It is now necessary to maintain a strip along roadsides four or five feet wide free of brush and branches for free passage of machines. It is not necessary to plant every foot of roadside. There are places where soil conditions do not support trees, and open spaces are desirable. Formal planting of trees is necessary in thickly settled parts of the town, while on unpopulated roads, trees and shrubs can be planted in groups or at irregular distances. Trees should be planted far enough apart so that they will not be crowded when fully grown and, also, have free circulation of air around them.

"The Tree Department has planted trees this year on a number of streets on request of landowners. In the future we hope to have some definite plan in connection with roadside beautification. In connection with the Arbor Day exercises of the school children the tree department furnished an elm tree for the Shaw-shen School and a sugar or rock maple for the center schools. A number of truck loads of brush were furnished to protect the lawn at the new school buildings.

The men of the Tree and Moth Departments are now spending most of their time spraying trees and this work will continue for another month at least."

There will be a plant table at the sale and supper of the King's Daughters to be held the afternoon and evening of May 26th.

Bonnets Feature Annual Banquet

A very large attendance was present last night at the annual Mothers and Daughters banquet of the A.P.C. held at the South church vestry. After the banquet, an entertainment was presented by Mrs. Eleanor Coray Forman of Danvers. In an unusual and inspirational talk Mrs. Gorman uses fascinating bonnets to illustrate worthwhile qualities in life: old fashioned bonnets for a sense of humor, an aviatrix helmet for courage, lovely bonnets to typify the quest for and appreciation of beauty, a Quaker bonnet for simplicity, a sunbonnet for the enjoyment of home life, a nurse's cap for service, a student's cap for study and a bride's bonnet for love. Poems, with music and bits of philosophy were used, with Mrs. Forman using as models three members of the sorority. Mrs. J. Albion Burt was pianist.

A trained animal movie completed the evening's entertainment.

Mrs. G. Richard Abbott was in charge of the entertainment, and Mrs. Franklin T. Ellis of the decorations. Miss Irene Cole had charge of the waitresses. The supper committee was: Mrs. Harold Wood, Miss Madeleine Kimball, Mrs. Clarence Smalley, Mrs. Carl Gahan, Mrs. Robert Souter, Mrs. Fred Gould, Mrs. Arthur Cole, Mrs. Carl Elander and Mrs. Philip Hardy. Mrs. Howard Coxon and Miss May Elander were in general charge.

The waitresses were Mildred Buck, Esther Baker, Jeannette Amedee, Harriet Newman, Helen McGraw, Florence Gates, Annabelle Steed, Helen Steed, Margaret Campbell, Mary Winkley, Pauline Wallace, Louise Sherman, Elizabeth Eastman, Reta Atkinson, Marion Hill, and Mabel Longe.

Very Young Ladies

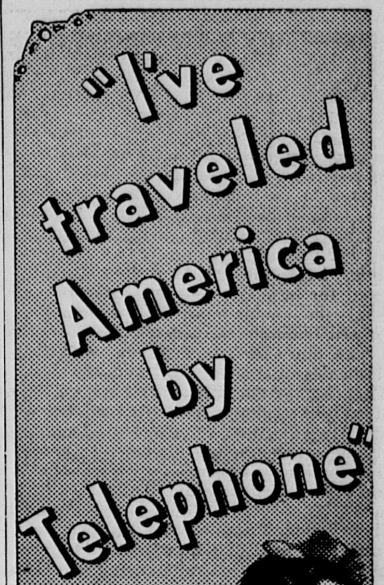

Vaguely familiar to you perhaps are the three young ladies in the above picture taken at a church picnic at Salem Willows about twenty years ago. Sitting are Shirley McKee, niece of Mrs. Charles A. Hill, and Frances Dalton, who is of course now the well-known local artist. Standing in the rear is Eleanor Flint, who has since added a Rhodes to her name and is now living in North Carolina with her doctor-husband.

Andover's Johnny Shinkonis, pro out at the Country club, who has always been fairly near the top in his many tournaments, reached the pinnacle on Monday afternoon when he topped the eight New England qualifiers for the National P. G. A. championships at the Metacomet Golf club, East Providence, R. I., with a score of 141, three under par. Only three holes of the 36 saw him go over the par for those holes.

Johnny went out in 37 and back in an astounding 33 in the morning, while in the afternoon rounds he went out in 36 and returned in 35. Johnny thus earns the privilege of representing New England at Pittsburgh in the tourney that starts May 24. He may however pass up this opportunity in order to play in the National Open qualifying round on June 1.

Andover Woman's Mother Tells of Hindenburg Explosion

"Herzlich Willkommen."

Over the door of the Bolten home on South Main street last Friday night hung that little sign, placed there to greet the tired eyes of Mrs. Marie Kleemann, who through what was little short of a miracle had lived to tell the story of the great Von Hindenburg disaster that had taken a toll of 35 lives the night before. "Hearty welcome," it said, and it was truly a hearty welcome, because for three terribly long hours the preceding night the Bolten household had been under the impression that Mrs. Bolten's mother had been killed when the world's greatest air-liner exploded and fell to the ground at Lakehurst, N. J.

But those three long hours were as nothing compared to the 34 seconds that Mrs. Kleemann spent in the downward plunge of that explosion-torn zeppelin. "Es war so furchterlich!" she said to a few newspapermen who had been waiting for her arrival in Andover. "It was terrible," her son-in-law, John Bolten, translated for her. He went on, interpreting what she could recall of the tragedy. "About five minutes before the explosion I was down in the stateroom with the stewardess preparing to leave the ship. Then I came up to the social hall on the third deck; the stewardess stayed below and was killed in the crash. I was looking through the great big windows watching the landing preparations when there came the terrific detonation. Great big men, bigger than John, were tossed about, hurled against me, thrown flat onto the floor. There was another explosion. Everybody was crying, shrieking. We were all nearly out of our minds. I had all my clothes on ready to leave, and I lost everything—even my hat—except what I've got on."

Steward Saved Her

"A steward saved me. The explosion was near the tail, and I was up in the front part. The decks below me were demolished when they hit the ground, and everybody down there was killed. But a steward who had jumped came in after me, and led me out through a split in the shell. Then he went in after some others. No, I don't know his name (she shook her head as she thought of the unknown hero). I was taken over to the hangar."

Mrs. Marie Kleemann and Mrs. John Bolten at the Bolten Estate after Their Reunion

Mrs. Kleemann had a few bruises on her forehead and her hair had been burnt in spots. She was still slightly nervous, and when the first flashlight picture was taken, she jumped perceptibly as though there had gone through her mind again that too vivid memory of the explosion. But graciously she granted the interview, and paid strict attention to her newspapermen audience except for the brief moment when, her face alight, she hurried to answer a phone call from her grandson, John, Jr., from Stony Brook, L. I. Toward the end of the interview she was very visibly becoming tired, and after enjoying a reunion dinner, she retired early for the night.

Mr. Bolten had been waiting at the Newark airport for a plane which was to have brought Mrs. Kleemann from Lakehurst. About eight he became very much worried, because the Hindenburg had gone over long before. Then an airport official came and told him that he had bad news for him. After hearing of the terrible tragedy he managed to get in touch with Wilhelm Von Meister, Zeppelin representative in the United States who was a neighbor of the Kleemanns in Bad Homburg, Germany. Mr. Von Meister told him that his mother-in-law was safe at the hangar, and he hurried off to Lakehurst, arriving about midnight to see the stark steel skeleton left scattered around the ground after the dirigible's majestic splendor had become a hail of fire pelting down on an awe-stricken ground crew from a huge cloud of hydrogen-generated smoke. But Mrs. Kleemann was no longer in the hangar—he soon learned that she had been taken to the Royal Pine Clinic at Pinewald, N. J., and he arrived there about four a.m. on Friday, to see what he described as "a look of horror" on Mrs. Kleemann's face.

Thought She Had Died

Mrs. Bolten, recently returned from an operation at a Boston hospital, was alone at her house Thursday evening when newspapermen arrived to bring her first tidings of the tragedy. At that hour little was known of the actual loss, and Mrs. Bolten felt that Mrs. Kleemann had died with all the rest of the passengers and crew. But near midnight Mr. Von Meister called from Lakehurst to say that Mrs. Bolten's mother was safe, in a "not too bad" condition. In the morning Mr. Bolten called from Pinewald and confirmed the statement.

Later in the morning Mrs. Bolten was informed by the Boston Globe, which had called Pinewald, that Mrs. Kleemann and Mr. Bolten had left, and were apparently on the way home. Mr. Bolten later confirmed the announcement.

Preparations went ahead for a real reunion, for this time Mrs. Kleemann wasn't just coming from Germany; she was coming from what might have been death, what for three long hours had been death in Mrs. Bolten's mind.

Scrappy, the little Sealyham that the night before "knew something was wrong" was given a bath and his white hair glinted as he inquisitively walked around, looking out of one black-surrounded and one white-surrounded eye to find out what all the commotion was about.

Met Her in Boston

Arriving in Boston on the 6.20 Mrs. Kleemann was greeted by Mrs. Bolten, and then the party came along to Andover over the road. At the door Mrs. Kleemann was handed a little nosegay.

Woman Tells of Hindenburg Explosion

She wore a light coat, with an ugly rent in the right arm, and a dress with a print top. On the lapel of the coat was a little pin, a silver zeppelin against a blue background, her only souvenir of something that was now just a black hulk on the Lakehurst landing-field. A steward had returned to Mr. Bolten her glasses, with one lens gone.

But it was a "wundervoll" trip across, Mrs. Kleemann related with a good visualization of the enthusiasm that she said they all felt coming across the Atlantic. The beds—why, it was just like sleeping at home, and the food was marvelous, "gut" German food, served on hard rubber trays manufactured at the Bolta Rubber company, Mr. Bolten's concern, in Lawrence. Her first view of America was off Newfoundland where they were all very much interested in the icebergs, like "swimming castles,"—and perhaps some of them pondered over the fate of the Titanic 25 years ago, a fate which they couldn't meet because they were flying over the icebergs.

Over Boston Captain Ernest Lehmann, who was dying as Mrs. Kleemann was being interviewed, turned to her and said: "Sorry I can't let you down here," one of those statements which unwittingly, and unfortunately, are prophetic.

Academy Teams Drop But One

Phillips academy's teams had a good week, only one team, the Lacrosse team, losing, and that in overtime. The baseball team annexed two games, the track team and its Jayvees won a meet each, the tennis team, rained out on Saturday, won one tourney and the golf team tied one and won one.

On Wednesday the Harvard freshman baseball team was defeated 10-5. Andover took an early lead but lost it in the sixth when Thomas hit a double to clear the bases and put his team ahead 5-4. In the seventh however Dudan and Peters both singled, the former scoring on a passed ball and Peters on an excellently executed squeeze. Four more runs were scored by Andover in the eighth.

The tennis team meanwhile was trouncing Milton academy's racqueteers 12-2, taking all the doubles and losing but the two singles. Up at the Country club the golf team was pinning an 8-1 defeat on the Nashua high team. The Jayvee track team took on Lowell high and won 68 2-3 to 48 1-3.

Three runs in the eighth inning gave Andover a 9-7 victory over Governor Dummer Saturday afternoon at South Byfield. The lead alternated between the two teams during the game, with the Governors leading 7-6 when the eighth opened. Phil Peters, Al Woodward and

There are a good many pictures wasting away in Andover homes that should have a larger audience through the Townsman. We're paying fifty cents for old pictures for reproduction, the pictures to be returned after being used. We also would be very glad to have new pictures of Andover persons or Andover places. Possible subjects are: Andover residents travelling abroad or elsewhere in the United States, Andover babies, former Andover residents now living elsewhere—in fact anything that is connected with Andover in some direct way. So if you've been photographed peering into the Grand Canyon or wondering if the Tower of Pisa will fall, send the photo in.

All those who have submitted pictures which have been used are asked to call at the office for their picture and remuneration if they have not already done so.

Lacrosse, Phillips at Deerfield.

Tennis, Phillips at St. Paul's.

WEDNESDAY

Baseball, Punchard at Wilmington.

Baseball, Phillips at St. Mark's.

Tennis, Phillips at Harvard fresh.

FRIDAY

Baseball, Johnson at Punchard.

Life begins on pay day.

Johnny Murphy led off with a trio of singles, and an error on Johnny's hit by Donnelly accounted for the three runs. Definitely the goat of the game, Donnelly had earlier distinguished himself by knocking out two home runs.

Coach Ray Shepard's track team walloped Worcester academy 78 2-3 to 38 1-3 on Saturday in an uninteresting meet which saw the usual good performances spoiled by raw weather. Victor's win in the 200 provided the only excitement. He had been trailing most of the distance, but pulled ahead at the tape.

The Lacrosse team put up a strong fight against the Dartmouth fresh team, but after two overtime periods was defeated 4 to 2.

Village Club Ends Fifteenth Year

The Shawsheen Village Woman's Club ended its fifteenth year Monday night when the annual dinner, meeting and election of officers was held in Balmoral Hall.

Two new directors for two years were named, Mrs. Percy Nutton of Carisbrooke Street and Mrs. Arthur Steinert of South Union Street.

Questionnaires were given out asking for suggestions for next year's program.

In the past year the Club has seen fit to join the General Federation of Women's Clubs. The Club is in a good financial condition. Nineteen new members have joined the Club the past year.

Supper which was served at 6.30 by Caterer Weigel was a delicious repast. Mrs. Garfield Chase presided at the head table and Mrs. George A. Mellen, the new President of the recently organized Presidents' Club asked the blessing. The tables were decorated by Mrs. William Trow and her committee.

At the business meeting much enthusiasm was shown over all reports of the officers and committees, and one of the pleasing high lights of the evening was the gift to the Club of $50.00 by Mrs. Frank B. Bartlett, Mrs. George Weldon and Mrs. Frederick Higgins of the Dramatic Committee.

Annual reports were made as follows: Recording secretary, Mrs. Clinton H. Stevens; Treasurer, Mrs. James R. Baldwin; corresponding secretary, Mrs. James L. Dean; program, Mrs. William W. Kurth; American Home, Mrs. William Trow; literature, Mrs. Vernon R. Walker; music, Mrs. H. Garrison Holt; dramatic, Mrs. Frank B. Bartlett; community service, Mrs. Joseph T. Gagne; flowers, Mrs. Frank B. Bartlett; house, Mrs. Leonard Johnson; press, Mrs. Clinton Stevens; Federation secretary, Mrs. Eugene V. Lovely.

The officers for the coming year are: Mrs. Garfield S. Chase, president; Mrs. William W. Kurth, first vice president; Mrs. Frederick C. Smith, second vice president; Mrs. Clinton H. Stevens, recording secretary; Mrs. Leon Field, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Joseph T. Gagne, treasurer; Mrs. Percy Nutton and Mrs. Arthur Steinert directors for two years with Mrs. Albert N. Wade and Mrs. Benjamin Schubert completing their second year as directors.

The nominating committee was made up of Mrs. William Kurth, Mrs. James L. Dean, Mrs. Walter Tomlinson.

The music committee under the direction of Mrs. Frederick C. Smith presented "The Fun Fest of the Midgets" much to the amusement of the audience. Those participating were: Irma Curtis, Iva Pedlow, Alida Houston, Ina Anderson, Betty Lawson, Anne Stone, Ruth Wilkinson, Mildred Dolan, Helen Holt and Irene Foster.

The literature committee of which Mrs. Vernon R. Walker is chairman gave a sketch depicting much talked about characters today in fact and fiction. Clara Howe appeared as Scarlett O'Hara in "Gone With the Wind"; Elizabeth Collins as a girl from "The Last Gasp"; Constance Shepard as Wallis Simpson and May Walker as Trudy Schoop.

Constance Shepard as "The most talked of woman in the world" was a great hit, as was Mrs. Walker as Trudy Schoop who staged a "sit down" when the characters refused to dance with her.

Mrs. Joseph T. Gagne conducted community singing as her stunt and this was enjoyed during the supper and between the features.

The dramatic department presented a pantomime, "And the Lamp Went Out." Mrs. John M. Birdsall was the reader while Hilda Lewis appeared as Evelyn de Vere, the heroine; Florence Clegg as Ralph Grayson, a suitor; Herbert Vanderslice, another suitor, Leona Mulvey; Mrs. de Vere, Carolyn Burt. Others assisting with the properties were Agnes Weldon, Katherine Higgins and Luella Bartlett.

This last skit was very amusing.

Planning to Hold Valley Exhibit

At a meeting of the directors of the Merrimack Valley Art Association, held May 7th at the Fitchburg Art Center, Fitchburg, Massachusetts, plans were made for the fourth annual exhibition of the work of artists in the Merrimack Valley. The exhibition will be held this year at the Fitchburg Art Center from August 3 to September 5. As in previous years, it will be open to all artists living in the Merrimack Valley district, which is broadly used to include the cities bordering the Merrimack River and its tributaries, and the surrounding towns. Artists are asked to submit their work, for the consideration of a jury, at the local center for their district. They may receive information regarding the exhibition from the Secretary of the Merrimack Valley Art Association, Addison Gallery of American Art, Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass.

Two of the previous exhibitions of the Association have been held at the Addison Gallery of American Art, Andover, and one at the Currier Gallery of Art, Manchester, N. H. Since the first exhibition in 1934, great strides have been made. Not only are a great many more artists exhibiting in these annual exhibitions, but sales have greatly increased. Last year, in an effort to increase sales, the Association engaged an executive director whose duty it was to contact the public and make sales from the exhibition. The results were far above expectations, and the same arrangement is being repeated this year at Fitchburg.

Mr. Frederick W. Coburn, Associate Editor of the Lowell Courier-Citizen, was again elected President of the Association, and the following directors, serving as representatives for districts in the Merrimack Valley, were appointed: Andover, Miss Alice Chase, Addison Gallery of American Art; Concord, Mass., Miss Mary Abbott; Fitchburg, Miss Caroline Gleick, Director, Fitchburg Art Center; Lawrence, Mr. Alfred Lang; Lowell, Miss Helen Weld; Manchester, N. H., Mrs. Maud B. Knowlton, Director, Currier Gallery; Marblehead and Salem, Mrs. Earl Cook; Nashua, Mr. Rosmond de Kalb; Newburyport, Mr. Sam Sargent; North Andover, Mr. Harry Sutton.

Annual Concert Well Received

The Andover Male Choir, the Andover Choral society and a new Andover orchestra presented a 100-voice concert on Wednesday evening in the Memorial auditorium before a very appreciative audience.

The Male Choir has in the past few years become a real Andover institution, well-known, very popular, very much appreciated by the townspeople. Not known at all was the Andover Choral society or the orchestra. During the past year the Male Choir has gradually added to its auxiliary ranks a group containing most of the best female voices in Andover, and it has also built up the orchestra, most of the members of which have appeared solo in many programs. Out of the melange there came on Wednesday night what was beyond the shadow of a doubt the finest musical program ever given by local talent.

The program opened with the orchestra in the overture: Boldieu's "The Caliph of Bagdad." Following were the choir and choral society in Jesu, Priceless Treasure; Thanks Be to Thee, and Dear Land of Home. Next was a song dedicated to the coronation: "And Did Those Feet in Ancient Time." Of all the first group the song that was most enthusiastically received was "The Heavens Are Telling."

A group by the Male choir followed, starting out with "Grant Us to Do With Zeal." Then the song which the Male Choir sang to win the New England championship a year ago was sung. It was "Open Our Eyes"—and it proved conclusive evidence as to the soundness of the judge's decision on that eventful day in the Choir's life. Following it was "It Was Not In The Winter," the prize song of this year, which all the choirs in the contest had to sing. The rendition of it Wednesday evening only went to prove that Newton, which won the first prize, must have been super-good at the contest. The audience also liked the local choir's choice song of 1937: "Victory."

After two selections by the orchestra, the Choir, Society and orchestra sang the Choral Fantasia from Tannhauser, which probably was the most popular of the evening's selections.

J. Everett Collins directed, and Miss Marion L. Abbott was at the piano. Soloists were: Dorothy Cornwell, Leland Buzzell, George Knipe and Paul Robbins.

Dancing was enjoyed in the gymnasium after the program.

Couple Observe Silver Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Blamire, formerly of Andover but now residents of Allston, celebrated the 25th anniversary of their marriage last Saturday evening at the home of Mr. Blamire's youngest brother, Alex Blamire of Enmore street. The couple were married in Lawrence by Rev. George Lovejoy a quarter of a century ago.

The home was prettily decorated for the festive occasion. A chicken pie supper was served to 45 relatives and friends of the couple, and the rest of the evening was spent in singing and dancing.

The couple received many beautiful cards and gifts, including a wedding cake given them by the sisters and brothers of Mr. Blamire. Guests were present from Cambridge, Dedham, Roxbury, Roslindale, Allston, Belmont, Andover, Methuen and Lawrence.

BRITISH AUXILIARY MEETS

A meeting of the Ladies' auxiliary to the British War Veterans was held Wednesday evening in Square and Compass hall.

In charge of refreshments were: Mrs. David MacIntosh, Mrs. James Mitchell, Mrs. Ann Renny, Miss Margaret Reid, Mrs. Allison Robertson, Mrs. Harry Rose, and Mrs. Thomas Morton.
